Join us at the “Go and Teach” conference as we kick off the ninth year of the ISJL education program.

ISJL Education Program consists of three parts:

1. ISJL Education Conference
2. Early Childhood through High School curriculum
3. Community visits from Education Fellows

How is the ISJL Education Program unique?

- The ISJL Education Program fits schools and staffs of all sizes.
- The ISJL Education Program provides a delivery system and ongoing communication.
- Our network of schools fosters collaboration among participating communities.

Conference Highlights

Featuring:

Dr. Ron Wolfson, professor of education, American Jewish University, president of Synagogue 3000, author and lecturer

...and other excellent speakers from the world of Jewish education including Josh Mason-Barkin, Debi Mishael, and Joel Lurie Grishaver

From ISJL:

- Macy B. Hart, President
- Rachel Stern and Jordan Magidson, ISJL Educators
- Rabbi Marshal Klaven, Director of Rabbinic Services
- Dr. Stuart Rockoff, Director, History Department
- ISJL Education Fellows

Individualized Tracks:

- Directors
- Hebrew teachers
- New teachers
- Veteran teachers (divided by grade level)

Big Ideas:

- Every Jewish child, no matter the size of their Jewish community, is entitled to an excellent Jewish education.
- The staff and volunteers of every school are entitled to the resources and support needed to make their school the best it can possibly be.
- The ISJL Education Program creates a “Common Body of Jewish Knowledge” for all participating communities.

The participants will be able to:

- Take home the ISJL curriculum and resources
- Integrate new ideas and techniques to their classroom
- Network with colleagues from other Southern Jewish communities
- Leave energized and enthusiastic as partners in Jewish education
- Share in a spiritually renewing experience

Who should attend the Education Conference?

Anyone dedicated to Jewish education, including directors, teachers, rabbis, board members, education committee members, parents.
